NORTH CAROLINA

State - 1789

On July 4, 1584, two English explorers, commissioned by Sir Walter Raleigh, dropped anchor off the coast of the region now present-day North Carolina. Although the region was inhabited by hostile Indians, they reported favorably on it, and as a result, a colonizing expedition set out the following year.

On Aug. 17, 1585, a colony was established on Roanoke Island, but abandoned a year later. On July 22, 1587, another colony commissioned by Raleigh landed on the island. The colony of 121 men was led by John White, whose granddaughter, Virginia Dare, born on Aug. 18, 1587, was the first child of English parents born in America. John White went back to England for supplies and returned in 1590 to find that the colony had completely vanished. The only trace of the colony was the word "Croatoan" found carved on a tree.

In 1629, the land South of Virginia, which was called Carolina, was granted to Sir Robert Heath by Charles I, but the proprietor failed to make use of his land. In 1663, Charles II granted the Carolina territory to eight proprietors, and they divided the grant into North and South Carolina.

The first permanent settlement in North Carolina territory was established in 1653, when groups of settlers came south from Virginia to occupy the section north of Albemarle Sound.

Prior to the American Revolution, large groups moved down the Shenandoah Valley to settle in Virginia, and many continued on into North Carolina, settling in the western section of the state.

North Carolina was made a State in 1789.

The Privits are a well known North Carolina family and they have retained that spelling and pronounce their name as privit, the shrub often used as a hedge.

Privits come from a parish in Hants, near Petersfield, England. The Privitt's were among the first settlers of North Carolina.

John and William Privett, whose destination was "Virginia", which at that time could have meant either Virginia or Carolina, were listed as leaving Bristol about 1680 (Bowman "Bristol to America 1654-1685", p. 493).

The fate of William Privett is unknown, whether he died in passage, as many did, or returned to England, is pure speculation, but we do find records of John Privett beginning in 1694 in North Carolina. It is probably from this John Privett that the Privitt's of North Carolina owe their origin.

Privits are found in Chowan, Craven, Iredell, Wake and Wayne Counties.

THE MIGRATION SOUTH

THE MIGRATION SOUTH

In the 1760's, (W22) John Pruitt moved to Granville Co., NC from Halifax Co., VA, and remained (Lineage in Granville County).

About 1767, the children of Thomas Prewitt, Sr. of Halifax Co., VA, migrated through North Carolina on their way to upper South Carolina. Most of his children only passed through North Carolina, but some stayed in North Carolina for a few years and left records in Rowan, Guilford, Rockingham, and Stokes Counties.

Most prominent was Thomas' son, (H15) William Prewitt and wife Judith Dudley, who may have had as many as thirteen sons. We now know of ten sons:

- (H151) David Prewitt, b. 1746 Brunswick Co., VA; m. Sarah; and died in Union Co., SC in 1823
- (H152) Richard Prewitt, b. 1748 Lunenburg Co., VA; m. Fanny Sandridge in Guilford Co., NC on Oct. 4, 1771; resided Surry Co., NC in 1785 before moving to Union Co., SC, where he died ca 1808
- (H153) Willis Prewitt, b. 1749 Lunenburg Co., VA; m. 2nd: Mrs. Esther Wright; resided Rockingham and Stokes Co., NC
- (H154) Samuel Prewitt, b. 1751 "near Williamsburg" VA; resided Hogans Creek, Rockingham Co., NC; moved to Abbeville Co., SC by 1795; and died there before 1840
- (H155) Obediah Prewitt, b. 1752 Halifax Co., VA; m. Mary Palmer; and died in Union Co., SC in 1796
- (H156) Joshua Prewitt, b. 1753 Halifax Co., VA; m. Mary Fowler in NC in 1787; resided Hogans Creek, Rockingham Co., NC; moved to Abbeville Co., SC by 1810; and died in Anderson Co., SC in 1842
- (H157) Ransom Prewitt, b. 1754 Halifax Co., VA; m. Isabelle; a son was born in Guilford Co., NC in 1785; moved to Newberry Co., SC by 1790; and died in Bedford Co., TN in 1830
- (H158) John Prewitt, b. 1755 Halifax Co., VA; m. Mary Hopper; entered 50 acres on Hogans Creek, then Guilford Co., NC, in 1780; moved to Abbeville Co., SC by 1795
- (H159) Dudley Prewitt, b. 1756 Halifax Co., VA; m. Ann; and died in Edgefield Co., SC in 1803
- (H15(10)) Peter Prewitt, b. 1760 Halifax Co., VA; m. Judith; resided Surry Co., NC in 1787; Stokes Co., NC in 1790; moved to Spartanburg Co., SC by 1820; and died there in 1823

Joshua, Ransom and Samuel Prewitt all served on the North Carolina Line in the Revolution, and Samuel states that he was living in Rockingham County at the time of his enlistment.

About 1777, (H53) Joseph Pruitt, Sr. moved to Wilkes Co., NC from Pittsylvania Co., VA., and remained (lineage in Wilkes County).

In 1788, (H52) Henry Pruett and sons, (H521) Joseph Puett, Sr. and (523) John Pruett, moved to Burke Co., NC from Pittsylvania Co., VA (lineage in Burke & Cleveland Counties).

In 1784, (H415) Charles Prewitt, from Henry Co., VA, was recorded on the Richmond Co., NC Census. He only stayed a short time on his way to Roane Co., Tennessee.

In the 1790's, (H531) Joel Pewitt, Sr. moved to Chatham Co., NC from Lunenburg Co., Virginia. He only stayed a short time on his way to Williamson Co., Tennessee.

About 1799, (H552) William Pruett moved to Rutherford (later Cleveland) Co., NC from Bedford Co., Va., and remained (Lineage in Cleveland County).

Revolutionary Land Grants:

Under her Royal Grants, North Carolina claimed what is now the State of Tennessee. First settlements were at Watauga, a branch of the Holston River, near the present town of Elizabethton in eastern Tennessee, not far from the Virginia line.

Fort Watauga was surprised by an Indian attack in July 1776, and its people petitioned North Carolina to be annexed as a County. In 1777, North Carolina accepted the district as Washington Co., NC., which eventually embraced all of the present State of Tennessee.

In 1783, North Carolina, by an act of the Assembly, ordered land surveyed in the unsettled portion of Greene County (formed from Washington) for Carolina Continental Line.
